

Little sister
(words and music Lee Maddeford)

Little sister when I see you smiling I think of all that we shared and even though the distance doesn't make it seem so I will always care

we walked the tracks along deserted beaches contemplating the sea we talked of all the dreams we'd ever lived for and what we hoped could be and in this world where life's a bitter game it's hard to find honesty if you ever need a helping hand you can count on me
