

Peace of mind

Faded and framed and forgotten now
A child with a smile in her eyes
The pride and joy of her papa's life
A sweet little thing her mother's surprise

Now all that that smile sees are memories
And the ones that she loved have gone away
And with the strength of the old and tired
She gets on her knees each night and prays

Give me peace of mind
Cause i can't go on anymore
Give me peace of mind
Cause i can't go on anymore

They talk of old times and they talk of fear
They talk to the shadows on the walls
They'll talk to you but they won't remember your name
They'll talk to that god above and call

Give me peace of mind
Cause i can't go on anymore
Give me peace of mind
Cause i can't go on anymore
