

Saviour

(words and music Lee Maddeford)

I've been looking for the rain in the summer I've been looking for heat in the spring I've been looking for a light in your window and I've been waiting for your love to bring me home

I've been looking for a sound in the silence I've been looking for heaven in the hell I've been looking for a pawn in the castle I've been waiting for your love to show the way and I've been looking for rest in this helpless world where there's nothing but strain upon me and I've been looking for a smile inside your tears falling down upon my heart can you hear the whistle blow for me

listen to me

REFRAIN

You're a saviour in my life when you turn you're eyes upon my empty soul you're the reason for my strife when i feel the weight of time and the wind is cold on me
listen to me
