

Song for Madeleine

Coffee mornings and wine afternoons
Sitting in a dim cafe
Conversations that stir the moon
With friends that pass the time of day

Ancient lovers and ancient pains
Fly away on subtle wings
And ancient problems blow away with the winds
And promises as rich as kings

Coffee mornings and wine afternoons
Sitting in a dim cafe
These are memories i have of you
Memories that will never go away