

Vice versa
(words John Mckillop/Lee Maddeford music Lee Maddeford)

There's so much heaven in hell
and vice versa
it's hard to make a decision there's so much lovin' in hate

and vice versa
it's hard to speak with precision should I hold you or should I kick you? should I kiss you or should I spit on you?

and vice versa
it's hard to make a decision

there's so much truth in a lie
and vice versa
it's easy to lose the direction there's so much fiction in fact

and vice versa
it don't stand up to inspection

should I hold you or should I kick you?
should I kiss you or should I spit on you?
