

You're on my mind
(words and music Lee Maddeford) looking out across a silent city looking across a silent sea you can hear yourself hear the voices calling alone in the night

I would like to see you when you're lonely I would like to hold you when you're sad with my arms in yours we'd float across the ocean
alone in the night

REFRAIN

and everything that ever was and everything that ever will be is held inside the grains of sand as there brought in from the lonely sea

I look into your heart
I look into the light of your eyes I hold onto the touch of your hand and the security you bring into my life the ocean winds are rolling in and wings of time fall down upon my mind you're on my mind

doesn't matter what you'll live tomorrow doesn't matter what you'll live today when I see you smile the words remain unspoken I know you can hear
